I am a little tiny raindrop. I live in the clouds with my mom and dad. When I wake up I went down stairs and ate breakfast. Then I got on my clothes and brushed my teeth. When I went to school I had a fun time. When school was over I played outside but then someone grabed me from behind. I was taken to a house and got my arms and feet locked up. Then, they robbed me of my money. When I slipped my hand into my pocket I found a paper clip. I unwound it and picked at the lock. When I got out I ran away. I went to the police station and told them everything that happened. When I got home I ate dinner and told my parents what happened. I played with my friend then a alarm went off! It was the alarm for the thunderstorm everyone in the town ran outside. Everyone got to the side of the cloud and jumped and I falled and falled and falled through the sky like a bird. I really didn't wand to die. When I looked below me I saw some raindrops I jumped on them and then I jumped to the nert one. I kept on going up and then I saw the cloud. I jumped then I grabbed the two sides of the cloud. I felt my grip loosen and then I dropped and landed on the ground with a plop!
