Electrical Certification Preparation Classes from TFACA

The State Fire Marshal's Office (SFMO) is seeking the service of state certified electrical inspectors across the state of Tennessee. If you would like to become a certified electrical inspector, the SFMO is providing training to help you accomplish this goal. For those who are primarily interested in obtaining their electrical inspector certification for the purpose of securing a contract with the SFMO, we will be offering FREE classes through the TN Fire Service & Codes Enforcement Academy (TFACA). Additionally, individuals seeking to obtain their electrical inspector certification for other interests are invited to attend as well at no cost*. This unique opportunity will be provided at the following times and locations:

Oct. 3 - 7, 2016	TN Fire &amp; Codes Academy	2161 Unionville/Deason Rd.	Bell Buckle, TN
Oct. 10-14, 2016	Jackson Fire Training Center	720 S. Highland Ave.	Jackson, TN
Oct. 17-21, 2016	Pigeon Forge City Complex	225 Pine Mountain Rd.	Pigeon Forge, TN

The courses will cover requisite knowledge for the 1&2 Family Dwelling Electrical Inspector Certification and the General (commercial) Electrical Certification exams which are both required in order to obtain a contract with the SFMO as an electrical inspector. Upon completion of the course, certification must be obtained by passing the appropriate exam(s) through the International Code Council or the International Association of Electrical Inspectors. Although tuition is FREE*, participants will be responsible for all other costs, such as overnight accommodations, travel expenses, any fees associated with certification exams, etc. Also, in order to secure as many seats for those seeking electrical certification, no recertification hours will be granted toward Building, Fire, Mechanical, and Plumbing certifications.

We are very excited to offer this opportunity!
