1. This list is comprised of persons who have attended a voluntary State of Tennessee sponsored Cathodic Protection Tester Training class and provide cathodic protection testing services in Tennessee. The list does not represent all vendors which may provide such services and has been provided solely as a convenience for assisting tank owner/operators in contacting a service provider. Tank owners may choose other qualified professionals who do not appear on this list. Appearance on this list is not a requirement for cathodic protection testing in Tennessee.
2. The Division of Underground Storage Tanks (Division) does not recommend one provider over another. The Division does not guarantee nor make claims regarding the quality of services provided by any particular vendor.
3. It is the responsibility of the owner/operator of the facility to procure services from a vendor of their choice. The owner/operator, not the service provider, is responsible for all compliance requirements of the Division as well as meeting all compliance deadlines.
4. It is the responsibility of the owner/operator to procure another vendor or multiple vendors to meet compliance deadlines if services cannot be provided on time or are delayed.
