

Jeanine C. Miller serves as Director of Policy for the Department of Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities. In this role, Miller directs and oversees the development and modification of Departmental policies and procedures and guiding documents and advises executive and senior leadership on policy issues impacting the Department.

Jeanine C. Miller holds a Bachelor of Arts from and was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa at Skidmore College. She earned her MA and PhD in Clinical Psychology from Vanderbilt University. Her community involvement includes being a charter founding member of the Middle Tennessee Section National Council of Negro Women and raising funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.