CLASS DESCRIPTIONS:Addressing for NG9-1-1: August 3, 2017

Location is one of the most important aspects of emergency response. Ensuring a cohesive approach to addressing by including 9-1-1, GIS, Planning & Zoning and other agencies is key. Attendees learn how to address their jurisdiction using industry standards and best practices on a campus, rural, or urban environment.

Mapping of addresses, along with assignment of those addresses will make the transition to an NG9-1-1 system more efficient, and will serve to improve public safety overall. This course gives a brief overview of GIS for non-GIS users such as planners who may be assigning addresses, it will provide an understanding of the basics of addressing by utilizing different address systems and how address information is essential for 9-1-1.

-OR-Cyber Security: November 2, 2017

PSAPs around the country are facing cyber-threats almost daily. With the move to NG9-1-1, planning for and implementing cybersecurity measures is critical.

In this course, PSAP directors and managers will come to understand what cybersecurity means in the world of 9-1-1; discuss the most severe cyber-risks to public safety; and learn how to develop the policies, procedures, and protocols necessary to prevent and mitigate the damage caused by software viruses and network intrusion attacks.
