Re: 2014–15 Safe Schools Report

Date: February 12, 2016

The Schools Against Violence in Education (SAVE) Act of 2007 (T.C.A. §49-6-801-810) provides that the commissioner of education report annually to the governor and General Assembly concerning "the prevalence of violent and disruptive incidents in the public schools, and the effectiveness of school programs undertaken to reduce violence and assure the safety and security of students and school personnel."

The attached report provides a summary of serious incidents occurring within Tennessee schools as well as an overview of statewide efforts currently underway to ensure the safety of our students and staff.

Questions regarding the report may be directed to Pat Conner, executive director of safe and supportive schools, at (615) 253-0018 or via email at Pat.Conner@tn.gov.

Safe Schools

An Annual Report for the Tennessee General Assembly from the Tennessee Department of Education

Introduction

The Schools Against Violence in Education (SAVE) Act established specific school safety planning and reporting requirements for Tennessee schools and the department of education. The act specifically directs the commissioner of education to provide an annual report to the governor and the General Assembly regarding the ability of schools to provide a safe and supportive learning environment.

The following report identifies the number of serious incidents that occurred in Tennessee schools during the 2014-15 school year as well as a summary of the resources and strategies currently being used in schools and districts across the state.

Serious Incidents in Tennessee Schools

Serious incidents related to student discipline in Tennessee schools are tracked via the department's student management information system. For the purposes of this report, the department has developed a measure entitled the School Safety Index which encompasses those incidents deemed to be most directly related to the safety and welfare of students including the following:

Possession of a handgun
Possession of a rifle or shotgun
Possession of an explosive or incendiary device
Possession of a weapon other than a firearm
Assault of a teacher or staff member
Assault of a student
Sexual assault
Aggravated assault of a teacher or staff member
Aggravated homicide

Below you will find an abbreviated index for Tennessee for the past four years (Figure 1).

Please Note: Bullying and harassment are considered serious issues but for this report they are not included in the School Safety Index. Please see section on bullying below for further information.

The total numbers of the above incidents that have been reported for the school year are divided by the school's average daily membership to arrive at a School Safety Index score. The full School Safety Index report, disaggregated by school and district, is attached as Appendix A.

Bullying

In 2012, the Tennessee General Assembly adopted legislation (Public Chapter 992) to require the department to "report on the number of bullying cases brought to the attention of school officials during the preceding year and the manner in which they were resolved or the reason they are still pending."

Pursuant to this provision, the Bullying and Harassment Compliance Report was released December 2014. Based on the information available, each local education agency (LEA) in Tennessee satisfied the requirements of the state bullying and harassment laws (T.C.A. § 49-6-1014 through § 49-6-1019) and submitted bullying compliance information on its compliance report form. The bullying compliance information for each LEA can be found at http://www.tn.gov/education/article/civil-rights-bullying-compliance-report.

To support school staff and administrators on bullying, harassment, and applicable state and federal laws, a series of Bullying Policy to Practice trainings were conducted in September 2014 and April 2015. In addition, the department continues to support the availability of certified Olweus Bullying Prevention Trainers. There are currently 88 certified trainers available to support Tennessee schools. A listing of trainers can be found at http://www.tn.gov/assets/entities/education/attachments/bully harass olweus train ers.pdf.

Conflict Resolution and Character Education

State law T.C.A. § 49-2-118 and § 49-6-1007 requires that the commissioner of education report annually regarding the implementation of conflict resolution and character education programs in Tennessee schools. Based on the SAVE Act self-assessment, conflict resolution programs were used in 130 school districts and character education programs were used in 129 school districts.

Safe Schools Act of 1998

The Safe Schools Act of 1998 established a matching grant program for Tennessee schools. Safe schools funds are available to all Tennessee school districts and may be used for a variety of safety and violence prevention activities including school resource officers, security and surveillance equipment, and violence prevention programs. The amount of funding available through this program has remained level at approximately $4.8 million since 2001. A summary of the grants to individual districts and the purposes for which they are used is attached as Appendix B.

In addition to funding for districts, the Safe Schools Act provides a relatively small amount of funding, approximately $245,000, to the department to support training activities under the auspices of the Tennessee School Safety Center. A summary of the training provided is attached as Appendix C.

Schools Against Violence in Education (SAVE) Act of 2007

The SAVE Act (T.C.A. § 49-6-(801-814) establishes specific and consistent requirements for school districts in providing a safe school environment. The SAVE Act requires school districts in Tennessee to adopt and annually review district and school-level safety plans. Districts are required to complete the self-assessment, reconvene their district emergency operations planning team, review and update their existing district-wide emergency operations plan, and submit an electronic copy in ePlan, Tennessee's online planning and grants management system. ePlan is designed to promote collaboration among stakeholders allowing for easier program monitoring and provides the state the capability to retrieve districts updated emergency operations plan and the response roster from every district and school.

The SAVE Act requires the commissioner to establish a state-level safety team to assist districts with compliance. As part of the assistance, the state-level safety team shall publish a template for use by districts in preparing their district-level safety plans and school-level emergency operations plans that will outline the responsibilities of the school district and individual schools in meeting compliance requirements. The state-level safety team met in October 2015 to review and update the quality indicators to be used in the template by districts. The final version of the template will be released in March 2016.

Updated district emergency operations plans are currently being reviewed in collaboration with the Tennessee Department of Safety's Office of Homeland Security. The complete compliance process can be reviewed online at: http://www.tn.gov/education/article/save-act. An abbreviated version of the self-assessment document is provided as Appendix D.

To expand the capacity of the Tennessee school safety center to assist school districts in the development and implementation of high-quality school emergency operations plans, a state-level director was hired in December 2014. The director provides training and technical assistance to districts on developing and implementing school emergency operations plans, developing or enhancing memoranda of understanding with community partners, and provides training and technical assistance to districts on the implementation of National Incident Management System (NIMS).

Federal Safe and Supportive Schools Demonstration Grant

Tennessee was one of eleven states to be awarded a Safe and Supportive Schools Demonstration Grant (S3) from the U.S. Department of Education. The overall mission of S3 project is to ensure safe and supportive learning environments for all students.

The S3 grant, currently in its fourth and final year of implementation, provided $3.4 million annually for the development of a measurement system to assess conditions for learning—or school climate— in 26 pilot districts.

School climate refers to the quality and character of school life. Research has demonstrated that positive school climate is associated with stronger academic performance, higher graduation rates, decreased incidences of violence, and increased teacher retention.

Districts received a limited amount of funding to implement best practices targeted at improving school climate in three broad areas: (1) engagement, (2) safety, and, (3) environment. A more in-depth description of the project, including the measurement constructs and participating districts, is attached as Appendix E.

School Security/Law Enforcement Partnerships

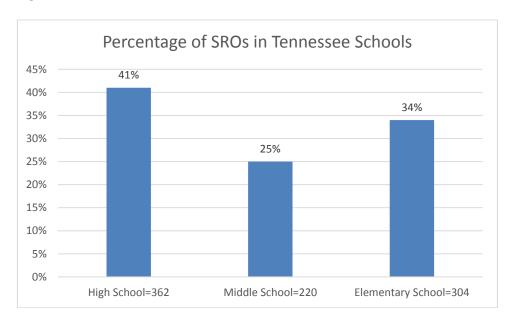

As evidenced by activity across the state, Tennessee schools and communities are reviewing current policies and practices and searching for viable options to enhance the security of schools. The most popular and widely practiced model is the school resource officer (SRO). The first SRO program began in Rutherford County over 20 years ago. A partnership between schools and law enforcement, the SRO is a duly trained and sworn officer of a law enforcement agency whose specific duty assignment is a school. Tennessee SROs are required to receive 40 hours of basic SRO training within the first year of their assignment and a minimum of 16 hours per year afterward. A memorandum of understanding (MOU) between the district and the law enforcement agency is required. Typically, the MOU specifies the role and responsibility of the SRO, how the officer will be selected or assigned to a school, how the position will be funded, and how supervision and training will occur.

Specific SRO responsibilities vary from district to district; however, most SROs follow a community policing model that emphasizes the importance of the SRO developing positive relationships with students and staff. These officers typically become an important part of the school community.

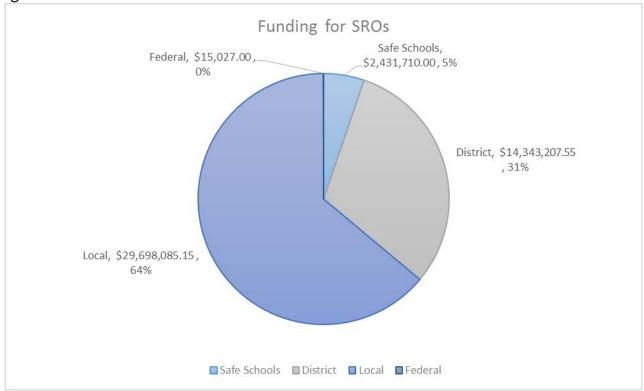

Districts report annually to the department regarding their SRO programs and the following information is based on the October 2015 report. Of the 886 full-time equivalent SRO positions that were identified in the most recent report, officers were assigned to elementary, middle and high schools as evidenced by Figure 2,

Funding for SROs comes from local government, districts, safe schools grant, and federal funds. The percentages are identified in Figure 3,

Compared to the 2013–14 school year there has been a nine percent decrease in the number of SROs assigned to schools. At an estimated cost range of $40,000 to $80,000 per officer, many districts and jurisdictions that added officers after the Sandy Hook tragedy found it difficult to maintain the level of funding necessary to continue the additional SROs.

For those districts that have not been able to find the funds, or in some cases qualified officers, to allow coverage of all schools, alternative partnerships with county and city law enforcement agencies have been expanded. These partnerships secure an ongoing law enforcement presence without the specific assignment of a full-time officer to every school. Examples of this practice include modifications of patrol assignments to include more frequent school visits—sometimes including the use of schools as satellite offices—and the use of reserve or retired officers to provide a basic security presence without implementation of the full SRO model. While not as comprehensive as the traditional SRO model, this option provides school districts with additional support for instances where funding or needs might preclude a full-time SRO.

A second option for some schools and districts has been the use of licensed security guards. Some potential benefits of this model are reduced cost and reduced hiring time. However, some weaknesses of the model are that security guards receive far fewer hours of training than police officers. Additionally, security guards do not have arrest powers beyond that of any citizen of Tennessee and have different investigative authority than police officers.

Pursuant to the School Security Act of 2013, a third option would allow a person employed by districts as a faculty or staff member to carry a firearm on school grounds if the person is: (1) authorized to carry a firearm; (2) has written authorization of the director of schools; (3) is a law enforcement officer or has certain former law enforcement officer service and is in compliance with all standards and training commission regulations; and, (4) has completed 40 hours of basic SRO training. The use of this option is confidential; thus, we are unable to report the extent of usage.

Tennessee School Safety Specialist Program

Acknowledging limited resources and the myriad of issues schools are facing with regard to safety, the department's office of safe and supportive schools unveiled the Tennessee School Safety Specialist Program (TSSSP) in June 2014. The TSSSP provides the SAVE Act contact for districts ongoing training and information on national and state best practices, as well as exemplary resources for school safety, security, intervention/prevention, and emergency-preparedness planning.

The intent of TSSSP is to ensure that every school district has at least one highly trained person in basic school safety planning and the development of high-quality Emergency Operations Plans. Directors of schools were required to nominate the SAVE Act contact from their district to participate in TSSSP. Participants completed a five-day basic training program to attain the TSSSP recognition. A third cohort of training was conducted in June 2015 bringing the total number of highly qualified district safety personnel to 115 representing each of their districts. A fourth cohort will be trained in June 2016.

In April 2014, the school safety center unveiled the Best Practice School Safety Mentor program. The program provides assistance to school districts on the development of high-quality emergency operations plans. Drawing from the cadre of highly trained Tennessee school safety specialists, best practice school safety mentors were selected to provide support, technical assistance, and resources to school districts. Each education mentor is paired in their assigned region with a mentor selected from emergency management. The pairing of a mentor from education and emergency management ensures that districts receive the support necessary to expand and enhance their current initiatives around school safety. Two mentors are assigned to each of the eight CORE regions of Tennessee. The mentor program is unique to Tennessee and has the potential of receiving national recognition as a best practice for school safety.

Safe Schools Annual Report

APPENDICES

APPENDIX A: SCHOOL SAFETY INDEX

Description: The SAVE Act states that "the commissioner shall report to the governor and the General Assembly concerning the prevalence of violent and disruptive incidents in the public schools." To fulfill this legislative mandate, the department has developed the School Safety Index. For each school, the reported sum of school safety incidents is divided by the school's average daily membership to arrive at a percentage of enrollment or School Safety Index score. A higher index score indicates a relatively higher level of reported incidents. Schools that did not report any of the incidents identified below will not appear in the index:

Possession of a handgun
Possession of a rifle or shotgun
Possession of an explosive or incendiary device
Possession of a weapon other than a firearm
Assault of a teacher or staff member
Assault of a student
Sexual assault report.
Aggravated assault of a teacher or staff member
Aggravated assault of a student
Attempted homicide

APPENDIX B: SAFE SCHOOLS GRANTS

Description: The Safe Schools Act of 1998 (T.C.A. § 49-6-4302) provides funding for school safety and violence prevention activities. Each district is eligible to receive funding based on the district's relative share of BEP funding. A 25 percent local match is required. Many school districts use their safe schools grant funds to provide a SRO. Other uses of these funds typically include security enhancements such as improved building access control or monitoring and violence prevention strategies such as counselors and alternative education improvements. This is a listing of the grant awards for this school year and how these funds will be utilized.

APPENDIX C: 2014–15 TRAINING CALENDAR

Description: Calendar of safety trainings for 2014–15 school year.

Bullying, Harassment and Hazing: Policy and Best Practice Updates

A civil and respectful learning environment is an essential foundation for teaching and learning. To achieve that end, state law (T.C.A. § 49-6-4501 et al) mandates specific actions on the part of schools relative to bullying, harassment and intimidation. This seminar will provide an overview of these and other related requirements with a particular focus upon insuring that policy is reflected in effective practice.

Olweus Training of Trainer

STARS Nashville (Students Taking a Right Stand) was awarded a contract to provide Olweus Bullying Prevention Program Training. This program is the most researched and best known bullying prevention program available. The 10 principals of the Olweus Bullying Prevention Program are:

- Focus on the school environment,
- Assess bullying in your school,
- Gain support from staff and parents,
- Establish a bullying prevention coordinating committee,
- Train staff in bullying prevention and understand the difference between normal conflict and bullying,
- Clearly establish, communicate and enforce school rules and policies related to bullying,
- Increase adult supervision in the "hot spots" for bullying,
- Gain commitment to intervene consistently and appropriately in bullying situations,
- Gain commitment for a time of focus for some class time on bullying prevention, and,
- Do not quit/continue the efforts over time.

Participants who completed this training became trainers in their school district on the Olweus Bullying Prevention Program. This training was held in Nashville February 24–25, 2015.

Student Discipline Institute 2015

The institute provided a comprehensive overview of legal and procedural issues/practices related to student discipline as well as the latest legal developments in areas such as student searches, special education discipline, bullying and technology. The institute is particularly appropriate for district-and school-level administrators responsible for student discipline.

Lessons in Workplace Relationships

Differences in school leadership styles, personalities, philosophies, and belief systems create challenges for schools which may stifle academic and professional growth both for adults and children/youth being served. Effective and productive relationships in the school building are critical to positive school culture and climate. Adults play a major role in the overall social and emotional health of the school's community. Building trust, establishing respect, valuing differences and effective conversations are anchoring components necessary for creating a purposeful work and learning environment. This workshop will provide participants the opportunity to identify and manage relationship breakdowns; have crucial conversations; coordinate action; achieve business results, value differences; make effective requests; design new and lasting relationships; operate in a strengths-based leadership model and create an emotionally intelligent work environment.

Signs and Symptoms of Substance Abuse Workshop

The use of alcohol, tobacco, and other illicit drugs undermines student's ability to achieve academically, is associated with other harmful behaviors, and is incompatible with a school climate of respect, safety and support for learning. There is a new generation of teen drug use. The allure of new drugs to abuse are marketed through social media. For the recovering adolescent, the places they should avoid are places they must be; the school cafeteria, hallways and classrooms. This workshop will explore emerging trends and discoveries in adolescent substance abuse and brain development, with a special consideration of children living in homes with using parents.

- March 2, 2015 Nashville
- April 7, 2015 Morristown
- April 9, 2015 Jackson

Restorative Practices Conferencing

In Restorative Justice Conferencing, administrators learn how to facilitate restorative conferences. "Introduction to Restorative Practices" and "Using Circles Effectively" covers the basics of restorative practices and how to implement restorative practices through classroom circles. "Using Circles Effectively" is a prerequisite for Restorative Justice Conferencing

May 14–15, 2015 Nashville

Safe and Supportive Schools School Climate Improvement Meetings

All S3 Project Directors and school districts that have utilized the school climate measurement surveys were invited to this regional meeting. We discussed sustainability of their work and future plans for training and survey administration. Bill Preble presented on best practices for school climate improvement and sustainability of efforts. We presented on state level data and multiple perspectives of their data (looking at student perceptions vs parent and teacher perceptions and disaggregating data by students' self-reporting of grades). We also presented on a newly released toolkit on social and emotional learning. Maury Nation also presented on restorative practices and best practices in discipline policy and procedures.

Emotionally Intelligent Adults: The Impact on School Culture and Climate

The success of students in the school environment is contingent upon the culture and climate that adults establish. Emotional intelligence is a great predicator of success in life and work because "when people feel good, they work at their best" (Goleman 2005). This workshop focuses on the core competencies required to create a work environment that allows people to work on purpose using their gifts and strengths. Research shows that 77 percent of employers believe that "soft skills" are just as important as "hard skills" (Career Builder, 2014). People that master emotional intelligence have the ability to design their lives and workplaces.

1 2.0: PREVENTION AND INTERVENTION

Some emergencies can be prevented and/or mitigated. School safety planning includes taking appropriate steps to prevent problems from developing in the first place. Districts should attempt to defuse a crisis before it occurs by creating supportive learning environments that strive to reduce potential risks to the greatest extent possible. This includes training administrators and staff to identify students who exhibit early warning signs for the potential use of violence.

	Indicators of Success	Met	Not Met/ Action Plan Reguired	In Progress/ Action Plan Required	Not Applicable/ Explanation Required
2.1	Administrators, staff and transportation personnel are trained to identify the early-warning signs associated with students who pose a potential threat to others or themselves including training in threat assessment and crisis intervention.	0		0
2.2	The school district has established linkages to local mental health agencies, including a mobile crisis team/postvention team that will support schools during the recovery phase of a crisis.	0	П
2.3	Administrators, staff, and transportation personnel are provided in-service training to teach positive social skills, healthy lifestyles, and violence prevention and fuse these topics into the curriculum
2.4	Students have access to licensed school counselors who are implementing the Tennessee Comprehensive School Counseling Model and are empowered to make recommendations to outside social service agencies that can assist the student with his or her particular needs.		_
2.5	Parents, students and the community are partners with the district and school and take an active role in the collective responsibility for the safety of the schools.
2.6	Alternatives to suspension and expulsion have been built into the disciplinary policy and are appropriately and consistently used. Alternative education programs utilize best practices in the field as outlined in Tennessee's Model for Alternative Education .		0	0	О

1 ♦ 3.0: POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Carefully developed policies and procedures can help to reduce emergencies and compliment your existing emergency response plan (ERP). Effective policies and procedures outlining specific actions regarding day-to-day operations can help prevent, or reduce the chances of an emergency and/or crisis.

	Indicators of Success	Met	Not Met/ Action Plan Required	In Progress/ Action Plan Required	Not Applicable/ Explanation Required
3.1	The district and all schools have a written code of conduct based on stakeholder input that is revised annually, ensures safe and disciplined classrooms, avoids technical jargon, and is clearly communicated to staff, students and parents. (i.e. commonly found in the student handbook)
3.2	Consistent with Tenn. Code Ann. § 49-6-1016 , the school district has implemented a policy prohibiting and responding to an incident of harassment, intimidation, and bullying. This policy should be included in the code of conduct. The school district shall provide training to teachers and counselors regarding the policy and appropriate procedures relative to implementation of the policy.
3.3	The district has a formal procedure to receive, investigate, and respond to threats, an actual incident of violence, or other misconduct by students or staff.	0		П
3.4	The State Board of Education's Unsafe School Choice Policy is implemented and regularly communicated to administrators, teachers, staff and students.	0
3.5	A memorandum of understanding exists when a school resource officer is assigned to a particular school building. 3.6	The district has formal procedures in place that limit access to each educational facility to authorized students, administrators and staff. Procedures include a clearly marked and centralized point for screening all visitors. Each facility also has procedures for securing the school after hours and/or when unoccupied.

	Indicators of Success	Met	Not Met/ Action Plan Required	In Progress/ Action Plan Required	Not Applicable/ Explanation Required
3.7	Consistent with Tenn. Code Ann. §. 49-5-413 the school district has conducted criminal history/background checks of all teachers and other employees working in close proximity to school children or children in a child care program. Pursuant to the legislation cited above, history/background checks are conducted on all vendors having direct contact or access to the grounds of a school or child care center when children are present.
3.8	The district has a policy that prohibits weapons on or in any educational facility. This policy has been communicated to administrators, staff, transportation personnel, students, parents and the community. Signs are posted in each facility that indicates the existence of this policy.		0

№ 4.0: EVIDENCE INVENTORY

The Evidence Inventory provides a snapshot view of strategies and procedures that the district has in place to ensure a safe and supportive learning environment. Not all of the strategies and procedures listed below are appropriate or necessary for all schools. It is important, however, to periodically assess each of the broad areas identified. "Broadly Used" indicates that most schools in the district use this practice; "Limited Use" indicates some but less than half of schools in the district use this practice. "Initial/Trial Use" indicates new use of the practice in the district.

2014–15 Tennessee School Climate Survey Student Perceptions of School Climate Disaggregated by Student Reported Academic Performance

What does the data tell us about the relationship between student academic achievement and perceptions of school climate?

One-way analysis of variance (ANOVA) was used to assess differences in perceptions of school climate across sub-groups of students defined by the grades they report typically earning in school. For both middle school and high school students, there were significant between-group differences in perceptions of school climate across achievement groups. Post-hoc analysis showed that students who perform better academically also had more positive perceptions of the climate in their middle schools and high schools. These between-group differences were observed across all school climate measures, with the exception of Freedom from Substance Abuse among both middle school and high school students, and Supportive Relationships with School Leadership among middle school students. These findings offer further support for the connection between academic success and how students perceive their school relationships and levels engagement, their physical and emotional safety, and the physical, academic, and behavioral environment in their schools.
