

EIGHTH GRADE SOCIAL STUDIES INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS SCREENING INSTRUMENT

SECTION I: NON-NEGOTIABLE ALIGNMENT CRITERIA

All submissions must be aligned to the Tennessee Social Studies Standards and therefore must meet the non-negotiable criteria of Section I prior to moving to Section II.

Note: The Tennessee standards including the introduction and grade level standards appropriate to this screening instrument and this screening instrument should be read in full prior to reviewing materials. Evaluators of materials must be well versed in the standards for the grade/course(s) aligned to the materials in question, how the content fits into the progressions in the content standards, and the expectations of the standards. Additionally, special attention should be made to the Social Studies Practices, which are specific skills that students should apply when learning about social studies. The Social Studies Practices should be applied regularly in the classroom and guide inquiry and critical thinking and are not to be done in isolation.

EIGHTH GRADE SOCIAL STUDIES

United States History and Geography: Colonization of North America to Reconstruction

Course Description: Eighth grade students will study the European settlement of North America and the role geographic features played in the early settlement of Thirteen Colonies. Students will examine the development and maturation of the Thirteen Colonies and the political, cultural, and economic influences that led to the American Revolution. Students will analyze the major events and outcomes of the American Revolution as well as the individuals who played influential roles in the development of the new nation. Students will follow the development of the United States and its government, continuing through the early 19th century. Students will analyze the impact of the expansion and sectionalism of the U.S., including implications on domestic and foreign policy. Students will also study policies that affected American Indians and African Americans. Finally, students will examine the major events and issues leading up to the Civil War, individuals and events that were significant during the war, and the resulting era of Reconstruction.

This course will place Tennessee history, government, and geography in context with U.S. history in order to illustrate the role our state has played in American history.

This course is the first of a two year survey of U.S. history and geography and picks up where 7th grade finishes their study of world history. This course is designed to help students think like historians, focusing on historical concepts in order for students to build an understanding of the history of the U.S. Appropriate primary sources have been embedded in the standards in order to enhance students' understanding of the content.

This course can be used for compliance with T.C.A. § 49-6-1028, in which all districts must ensure that a project-based civics assessment is given at least once in grades 4-8 and once in grades 9-12.

Note: There are instances in the standards where examples are given. The following should be used as a reference for when for those examples:

Including: used to say that a person or thing is a part of a group

i.e.: "that is" or "in other words"; specific examples that should be used

e.g.: "for example"; examples that could be used, but examples are not limited to those listed

SECTION I. Alignment to Tennessee State Social Studies Standards

Part B. Focus: Instruction centers on the grade level topic, content strands, and Social Studies Practices at the level articulated within the standards.

	Yes	No*	* Evidence of extraneous or inaccurate materials
Materials focus on the grade level standards (i.e., does not include information from outside of the scope of the grade level standards or use disconnected facts and details).
Materials are accurate and grade level appropriate.

Part C. Content Strands: Supports the use of the content topics found within the Tennessee State Standards through the integration of the content strands. The content strands are focused on the seven disciplines of social studies and represent a way of categorizing knowledge about the human experience. The content strands help to organize the various themes of social studies instruction at age-appropriate levels. The content strands should be used within instructional materials to show the interconnectedness of the content strands with each other.

Content Strand	Targets for Content Strand	Yes	No	Evidence (include evidence of the integration of the content strands)
Culture	Use culture and cultural diversity to understand how human beings create, learn, share, and adapt to culture.
	Understand the role of culture in shaping lives and society.
Economics	Use economic reasoning skills and knowledge of major economic concepts, issues, and systems.
	Make informed choices as producers, consumers, savers, investors, workers, and citizens in an interdependent world.
Geography	Use knowledge of geographic locations, patterns, and processes to show the interrelationship between the physical environment and human activity.

Book Title and ISBN: _____ Level(s)/Course(s): _____

	Explain the interactions that occur in an increasingly interdependent world.
	Use knowledge of perspectives as well as practices and products of cultural, ethnic, and social groups to analyze the impact of their commonality and diversity within local, national, regional, and global settings.
History	Use materials drawn from the diversity of the human experience to analyze and interpret significant events, patterns, and themes in history.
Politics (Politics/ Government)	Use knowledge of the purposes, structures, and processes of political systems at the local, state, national, and international levels.
	Understand that people create systems of government as structures of power and authority to provide order, maintain stability, and promote the general welfare.
	Use knowledge of the rights and responsibilities of citizenship in order to examine and evaluate civic ideals and to participate in community life and the American democratic system.
Tennessee History	Students will use materials drawn from various sources to explore history through a Tennessee lens while focusing on the events, patterns, and themes that impacted both the U.S. and Tennessee.  This course has embedded and implied Tennessee history content.

Part D. Social Studies Practices: Social studies practices are specific skills that students should apply when learning social studies. They provide learning experiences that support a progression of student competencies and skills through active engagement and the continuous refinement of knowledge and ability through the content topics found in the grade or course level standards. Instructional materials should provide resources through which teachers engage in the SSP. This may include but are not limited to the following: graphics, artifacts, media sources, technology sources, and other Primary and Secondary sources.

Social Studies Practices	Targets for the Social Studies Practices	Yes	No	Evidence (include evidence of knowledge and skill progression within units, grade level, and between grade levels)
SSP.01	Gather information from a variety of primary and secondary sources.
SSP.02	Critically examine primary or secondary source(s).
SSP.03	Organize data from a variety of sources.
SSP.04	Construct and communicate arguments supported by evidence.

SECTION II: ADDITIONAL ALIGNMENT CRITERIA AND INDICATORS OF QUALITY

All submissions must be aligned to the Tennessee State Social Studies Standards and therefore must meet 100% of the non-negotiable criteria of Section I prior to moving to Section II.

SECTION II: ADDITIONAL ALIGNMENT CRITERIA AND INDICATORS OF QUALITY
Part A. Key Areas of Focus
	Yes	No	Evidence
Rigor: Learning experiences provide opportunities for thought, discourse, and practice in an interconnected and social context.
Coherence: Units and instructional sequences are coherent and organized in a logical manner that builds upon knowledge and skills learned in prior grades or earlier in the year.
Literacy: Supports student communication within a historical context through providing consistent opportunities for students to utilize literacy skills in reading, writing, vocabulary, speaking and listening.
	Evidence
A Note on Bias and Sensitivity: Social, ethnic, racial, religious, and gender bias is best determined at the local level where educators have in-depth knowledge of the culture and values of the community in which students live.                      As you review materials, please note any possible bias/sensitivity issues for use at the local level.
