Building effective school leadership is a critical strategy to improving student achievement. For Tennessee to continue building upon our success in improving student achievement, the state must ensure principals are prepared to take on the complex and diverse roles of school leadership. To better understand the expanding role that school leaders play, SCORE has identified research and actions taken by other states, districts, and other partners to better develop and support principals.

On Monday, May 21, SCORE will host a SCORE Institute on school leadership. During this event, leaders from across the state and country will come together to explore research-based strategies to better prepare, develop, and support principals in promoting student success.

As a leader in this work, we would be honored to have you join us on Monday, May 21, from 1 p.m. – 4 p.m. CDT at the John Seigenthaler Center (1207 18th Avenue South, Nashville, TN 37212). Attendees will include current practitioners, state policymakers, state-level leaders, and the philanthropic community. We believe this is an important conversation that can help advance excellent leadership in all schools.

If you would like to attend, please RSVP by emailing institute@tnscore.org by Friday, May 11. Please do not hesitate to let us know if you have any questions. We look forward to seeing you next month.

Sincerely yours,
