

You're Invited

The League of Women Voters of Tennessee, in cooperation with the First Amendment Center, invites you to a free screening of Gerrymandering, a documentary that takes a nonpartisan approach to educating citizens about the implications of redistricting – the redrawing of congressional and state electoral boundaries based on new census data. The documentary will be screened on Thursday, Oct. 6, and will be preceded by a reception. A panel discussion, moderated by Gene Policinski, senior vice president and executive director of the First Amendment Center, will follow the film.
