Practice
Abandonment of Patients
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 8/24/2017

PURPOSE: To define patient abandonment and differentiate between employment abandonment.

POLICY: Patient abandonment is unprofessional conduct and thus may subject a nurse’s license to disciplinary action.

For patient abandonment to occur, the nurse must:

- a) Have first accepted the patient assignment, thus establishing a nurse-patient relationship, and then
- b) Severed that nurse-patient relationship without giving reasonable notice to the appropriate person (e.g., supervisor, patient) so that arrangements can be made for continuation of nursing care by others.

A nurse-patient relationship begins when responsibility for nursing care of a patient is accepted by the nurse. The following will not constitute patient abandonment:

- Failure of a nurse to work beyond her/his scheduled work shift
- Refusal to accept an assignment or a nurse-patient relationship and failure to notify the employing agency that the nurse will not appear to work an assigned shift
- Failure of a licensed nurse to comply with a facility policy involving mandatory overtime, refusal to accept an assignment or a nurse patient relationship
- Failure to notify the employing agency the nurse will not appear to work
- Failure of the licensee to provide the employer with sufficient notice of intent to end the employment relationship.

However, the Board encourages licensees to end their employment relationships in a professional manner.

The licensed nurse who follows the above policy statement will not be considered to have abandoned the patient for purposes of board disciplinary action. Again, it should be noted that the board has no jurisdiction over employment and contract issues.

AUTHORITY: Tennessee Code Annotated §63-7-115 (a) (1) The board has the power to deny, revoke or suspend any certificate or license to practice nursing or to otherwise discipline a licensee upon proof that the person: (F) Is guilty of unprofessional conduct

Tennessee Board of Nursing Rules and Regulations for Registered Nurses 1000-01-.13 (1) and Licensed professional Nurses 1000-02-.13 (1) Unprofessional conduct, unfitness, or incompetency by reasons of negligence, habits or other causes, as those terms are used in the statute, is defined as, but not limited to, the following: (c) Abandoning or neglecting a patient requiring nursing care;

The board has the following powers and duties in addition to the powers and duties granted to or imposed upon it by other sections of this chapter:

- (15) Issue advisory private letter rulings to any affected licensee who makes such a request regarding any matters within the board's primary jurisdiction. Such private letter ruling shall only affect the licensee making such inquiry, and shall have no precedential value for any other inquiry or future contested case to come before the board. Any dispute regarding a private letter ruling may, if the board chooses to do so, be resolved pursuant to the declaratory order provisions of T.C.A. § 4-5-223;

Decision-Making Guidelines
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 8/24/2017

PURPOSE: To encourage appropriate practice standards for nursing practice.

POLICY: Although the Tennessee Board of Nursing administrative staff receives numerous inquiries in the course of the year from nurses who have questions regarding their scope of practice, Board staff may not issue opinions or interpretations on legal questions. Therefore, the Board has developed a decision-making model to assist nurses in making their own determination as to whether a contemplated practice or activity falls within the scope of practice. The guidelines and a decision-making model follow.

When a nurse finds that the decision-making guidelines are inadequate to a decision process, the nurse may write a request for advisory private letter ruling from the Board.

AUTHORITY: Tennessee Code Annotated §63-7-101 The purpose of this chapter is to safeguard life and health by requiring each person who is practicing, or is offering to practice nursing to submit evidence that the person is qualified to practice and to be licensed as provided in this chapter. Such evidence of qualifications shall be submitted to the state board of nursing, which is the regulatory body authorized to enforce the provisions of this chapter.

Tennessee Code Annotated §63-7-103 (a) (1) "Practice of professional nursing" means the performance for compensation of any act requiring substantial specialized judgment and skill based on knowledge of the natural, behavioral and nursing sciences, and the humanities, as the basis for application of the nursing process in wellness and illness care.

The licensed practical nurse shall have preparation in and understanding of nursing, but shall not be required to have the same degree of education and preparation as required of a registered nurse.

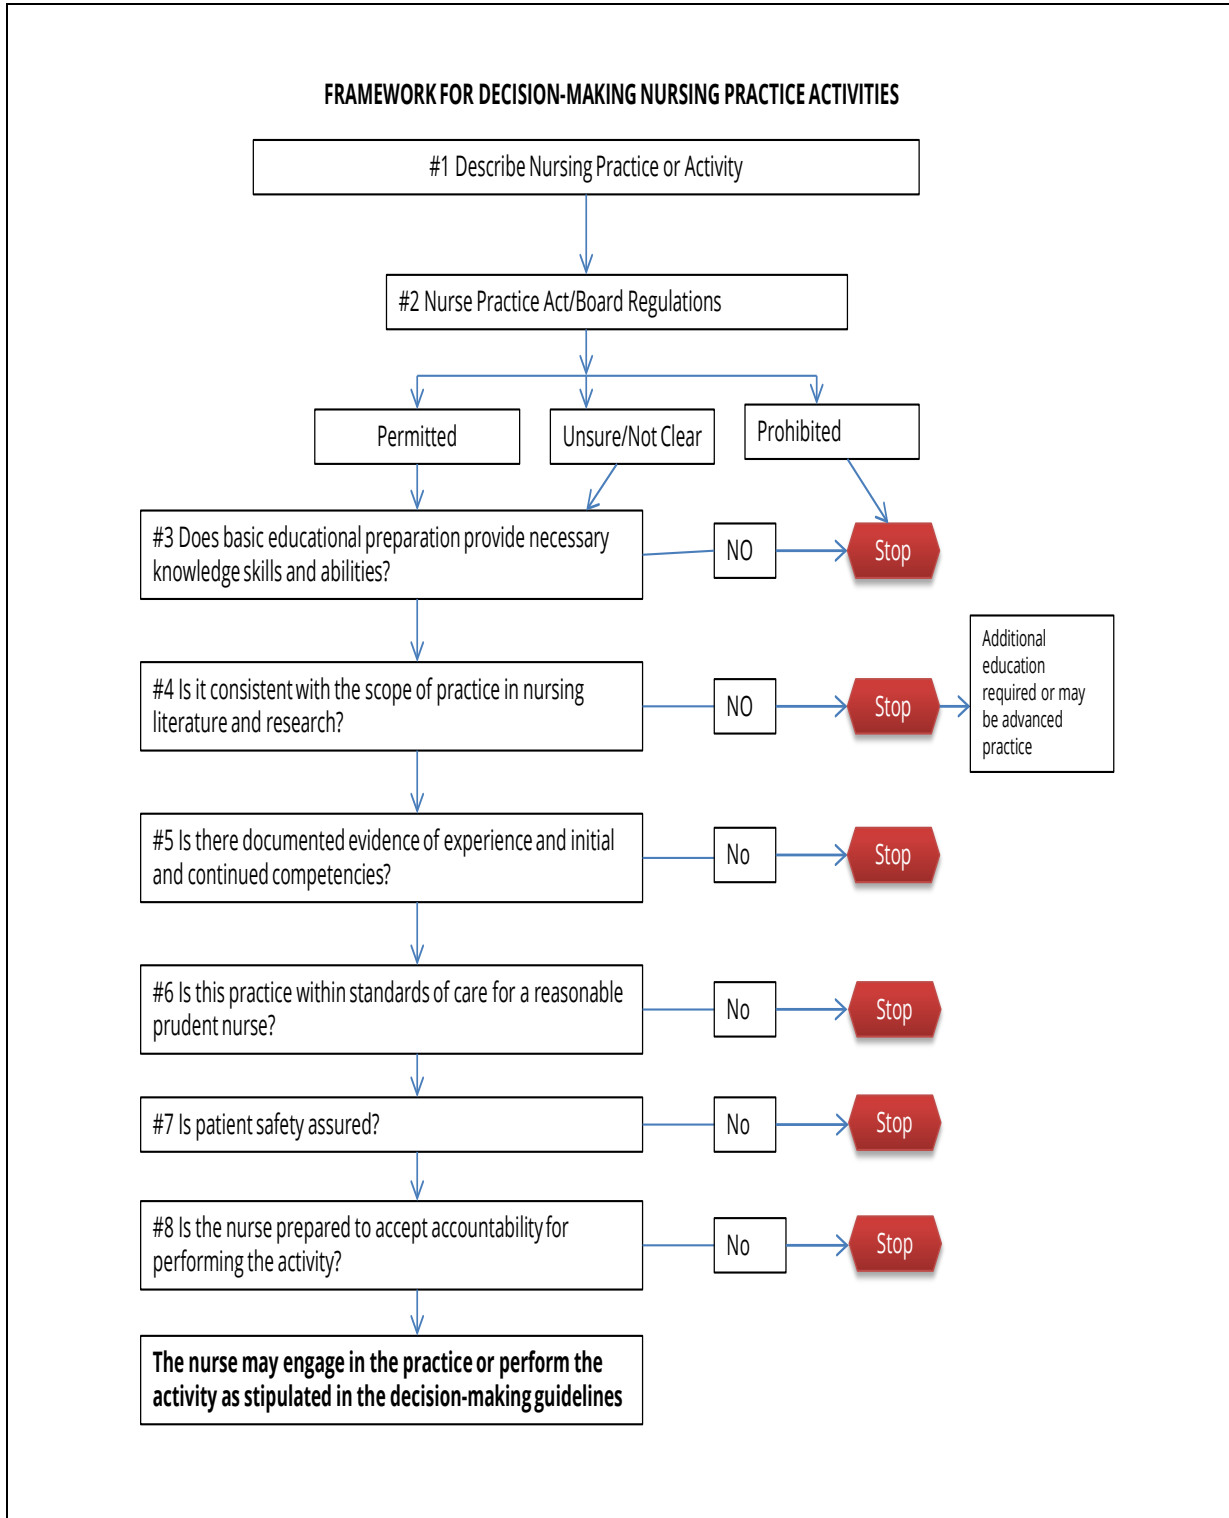

Tennessee Code Annotated §63-7-126 (a) "Advanced practice nurse" means a registered nurse with a master's degree or higher in a nursing specialty and national specialty certification as a nurse practitioner, nurse anesthetist, nurse midwife, or clinical nurse specialist.

AUTHORITY: Tennessee Code Annotated §63-7-108. "Practice of practical nursing" defined. The "practice of practical nursing" means the performance for compensation of selected acts required in the nursing care of the ill, injured or infirm and/or carrying out medical orders prescribed by a licensed physician or dentist under the direction of a licensed physician, dentist or professional registered nurse. The licensed practical nurse shall have preparation in and understanding of nursing, but shall not be required to have the same degree of education and preparation as required of a registered nurse.

Rule 1000-02-.04 Discipline of Licensee, Unauthorized Practice of Practical Nursing ...reads in part:
 (3)(a) Responsibility. Each individual is responsible for personal acts of negligence under the law. Licensed practical nurses are liable if they perform delegated functions they are not prepared to handle by education and experience and for which supervision is not provided. In any patient care situation, the licensed practical nurse should perform only those acts for which each has been prepared and has demonstrated ability to perform, bearing in mind the individual's personal responsibility under the law.

(b) The Board acknowledges that licensed practical nurses have knowledge and preparation in nursing, but not to the extent required of registered nurses. The Board recognizes that licensed practical nurses engage in activities that require greater skill and knowledge than that obtained in the basic license practical nurse curriculum. It is the intent and purpose of these rules that the licensed practical nurses only perform additional activities to the extent that the activity is related to the underlying scientific principles in the basic practical nurse curriculum.

(c) Before performing activities requiring greater skill and knowledge, the following criteria must be met.
 1. The education or in-service shall be related to the underlying scientific principles contained in the basic practical nurse curriculum;
 2. The individual shall have appropriate continuing education in the procedure or activity; and
 3. The individual must demonstrate competency in the practice.

Further, the Board has adopted rules that offer further clarification on this issue. Rule 1000-02-.14 Standards of Nursing Practice for the Licensed Practical Nurse states:

(a) Standards Related to the Licensed Practical Nurse's contribution to and Responsibility for the Nursing Process-The Licensed Practical Nurse shall:

Supervision of Licensed Practical Nurses
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 8/24/2017

PURPOSE: To define the role of those supervising LPNs

POLICY: The supervising registered nurse has the responsibility to determine the frequency and kind of supervision required. The supervision conducted may be on site, direct observation including demonstration of competency, record review, electronically and/or individual conference. Documentation must accurately reflect the supervision, provided in detail sufficient to provide an accurate picture of the competence of the individual supervised.

AUTHORITY: T.C.A. § 63-7-108. "Practice of practical nursing" defined.
The "practice of practical nursing" means the performance for compensation of selected acts required in the nursing care of the ill, injured or infirm and/or carrying out medical orders prescribed by a licensed physician or dentist under the direction of a licensed physician, dentist or professional registered nurse. The licensed practical nurse shall have preparation in and understanding of nursing, but shall not be required to have the same degree of education and preparation as required of a registered nurse.

Rule 1000-01-.11(21) Registered Nurses and Rule 1000-02-.11(20) Licensed Practical Nurses define supervision as:
Supervision: Means overseeing or inspecting with authority. The basic responsibility of the individual nurse who is required to supervise others is to determine which of the nursing needs can be delegated safely to others, and whether the individual to whom the duties are entrusted must be supervised personally.

Licensed Practical Nurses in a Supervisory Role
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 8/24/2017

PURPOSE: To define the role of LPNs in supervisory positions

POLICY: Practical nurses do not have the legal authority to either determine the acts of nursing performed or to perform all of the acts included in nursing practice; therefore, it is inconsistent with the Licensed Practical Nurse role to serve as director of nursing or supervisor over registered nurses. It is appropriate for a LPN to supervise Medication aides and unlicensed personnel performing selected nursing acts within the LPN's scope of practice.

AUTHORITY: §63-7-108. "Practice of practical nursing" defined. The "practice of practical nursing" means the performance for compensation of selected acts required in the nursing care of the ill, injured or infirm and/or carrying out medical orders prescribed by a licensed physician or dentist under the direction of a licensed physician, dentist or professional registered nurse. The licensed practical nurse shall have preparation in and understanding of nursing, but shall not be required to have the same degree of education and preparation as required of a registered nurse.

(m) A licensed nurse for the purpose of this section shall include a registered nurse, a licensed practical nurse, or either one.

(2) Exemptions. See Nursing Acts 1967, T.C.A. §63-7-102.

(c) Persons employed in institutions, agencies, or in the office of a licensed physician or dentist, assisting in the nursing care of patients where adequate medical or nursing supervision or both is provided. Assisting is defined to mean helping, aiding, or cooperating. Adequate supervision is defined to mean overseeing or inspecting with authority. The basic responsibility of the individual nurse who is required to supervise others is to determine which of the nursing needs can be delegated safely to others, and to determine whether the individual to whom the duties are entrusted must be supervised personally. The following are tasks commonly performed by such persons:

11. When a licensed practical nurse undertakes to supervise other nursing tasks requiring greater skill and knowledge by such persons, the following requirements shall apply:

- (i) Such persons shall assist with and undertake only those nursing tasks which they are qualified to perform.
- (ii) The licensed practical nurse shall supervise such persons.
- (iii) The licensed practical nurse shall retain professional accountability for nursing care when such persons are performing these activities.
- (iv) The licensed practical nurse shall not require assistance with or supervise nursing care activities or responsibilities by such persons contrary to the nurse practice act or rules and regulations to the detriment of patient care.
- (v) Such persons shall have had proper instruction and supervised practice and shall have demonstrated competency in the procedure or activity.

TENNESSEE BOARD OF NURSING POSITION STATEMENT

Licensed Practical Nursing Care of Ventilator Dependent Patients in the Home Health Setting
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 8/24/2017

PURPOSE: To provide guidance to LPNs in home health settings caring for ventilator-dependent patients

POLICY: It is the position of the Tennessee Board of Nursing that an LPN may provide home health care to a ventilator-dependent patient, but may only provide those services which fall within the scope of practice as an LPN, including:

Patient Care Responsibilities:

Monitor and maintain patient on high flow oxygen; deflate or inflate tracheostomy cuff; monitor cuff pressures using minimal leak technique; maintain security of tracheostomy patient’s airway- ties etc; disconnecting ventilator to do open suctioning; open suctioning patient while on a tracheostomy collar; use closed suction technique on a ventilated patient; use closed suction for patient on a high humidity high flow oxygen system; use a resuscitation bag to ventilate a tracheostomized patient with high flow oxygen during the suction procedure and during an emergency; change from ventilator to tracheostomy collar if circuit is preassembled and settings appropriately adjusted by RN or respiratory care practitioner; administer aerosol treatment to patient requiring disconnect of the circuit; give aerosol treatment to patients while on a tracheostomy collar; administer meter dose inhaler medication to patients while on the ventilator or tracheostomy collar; perform tracheostomy care on a ventilated patient or patient with a tracheostomy collar; change inner cannula of tracheostomy.

Equipment Responsibilities:

Turning the ventilator on or off during modality change (for example from tracheostomy collar and back to the ventilator); respond to alarms (high pressure, leak, frequent suctioning requirement, disconnect) and troubleshoot problems associated with frequently occurring issues in consultation with a licensed respiratory therapist.

The following practices will be within the scope of practice of the LPN caring for ventilator dependent patients in the home care setting if the basic practical nursing program includes the underlying scientific principles within the curriculum: Setting up and changing a ventilator or trach collar circuit; assembly of high humidity, high flow oxygen set up; application or management of speaking valve of patient on or off the ventilator; lavage of trach patient during suctioning; change HME daily on ventilator patient; adjustment of alarms; change out trach of tracheotomized patient and; change ventilator settings except for on/off and standby.

Addendum:

While all emergency situations cannot be anticipated, the board acknowledges that emergency situations occur and can sometimes be anticipated. The board charges the home health agency registered nurse supervisor to look for and attempt to anticipate emergencies that may require emergency action not always within the scope of practice for a licensed practical nurse. The agency Registered Nurse shall establish and ensure a training program for Licensed Practical Nurses on potential emergencies situations that allows for education of the procedure to help to stabilize the patient, practice on the steps to stabilize the patient and adequate supervision for back up. Both the Registered Nurses doing the training and the Licensed Practical Nurses receiving the training shall maintain a record of both the initial and annual training on emergency procedures. Having said this, the Tennessee Board of Nursing anticipates the need for LPNs practicing in home health agencies to replace the outer cannula in an emergency situation to establish a patent airway for a patient.

63-7-102. Exemptions.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as applying to: (10) Persons trained in accordance with § 68-1-904(c) who are:

(C) Employed by community-based licensed intermediate care facilities for people with intellectual disabilities who will administer medication only at a location other than the community-based facility. The employees of the community-based licensed intermediate care facilities for people with intellectual disabilities may additionally receive medication administration training specific to the person served. For the purposes of this subdivision (10)(C), when administered by employees of the intermediate care facilities, medications shall be packaged in individual doses labeled with the name of the individual patient, the time of administration and the drug name and dosage;

(11) Except for those persons covered under subdivision (10)(A), a person employed by an agency licensed under title 33, chapter 2, part 4 providing personal support services to clients living in their own home or private residence may assist the client with medication, except for injections, upon a written authorization by the client or the client's authorized representative. Before any such person is authorized to assist the client with medication as provided in this subdivision (11), the person shall receive and be able to document training in medication assistance performed by or under the general supervision of a registered nurse and consistent with the state's home and community-based services (HCBS) training in assisting with medications. For the purposes of this subdivision (11), assisting with medications is not to be interpreted in any manner or fashion to include, or to be the same as, medication administration that would be only appropriate and acceptable for persons who are authorized so to do by specific professional acts under this title or by rules or regulations;

(12) (A) Persons trained in accordance with T.C.A. § 68-1-904(c)(2), who are employed by agencies that are both licensed under title 37 and under contract with the department of children's services to provide services, can assist children and youth with the self-administration of medication in a group home setting. Before that person is authorized to assist the child or youth with self-administration of medication, that person must have received and be able to document six (6) hours of training in medication administration from a registered nurse licensed pursuant to this chapter;

(B) For the purposes of subdivision (12)(A), assisting with self-administration of medications is not to be interpreted in any manner or fashion to include, or to be the same as, medication administration that would be only appropriate and acceptable for persons who are authorized to do so by specific professional acts under this title or by rules or regulations.

Licensed Practical Nurse's Role in an Outpatient End Stage Renal Disease Dialysis Setting
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Board Approved: 08/24/2017; revised 8/08/2023

PURPOSE: To clarify LPN scope of practice in the end stage renal disease dialysis setting and the responsibility of the RN for LPN supervision in this setting.

POLICY: A licensed practical nurse, deemed competent by the RN, is to be allowed to give certain intravenous push medications in End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD) outpatient settings where they are directly supervised by a registered nurse and that registered nurse is immediately available in the dialysis facility. Given the National Kidney Foundation, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and the Department of Health and Human Services recommendation of AV fistula as the preferred type of access for hemodialysis, the board acknowledges the need for clarifying the LPN's role in administering IV push medications in the hemodialysis access site. For purposes of outpatient renal dialysis, the arteriovenous fistula or graft in the arm joining a dialysis circuit is considered a peripheral line. The Board acknowledges the need for clarification that LPNs may initiate hemodialysis through the CVC and terminate such treatment. Competency, obtained through appropriate coursework, must be documented in the employee's personnel record. Medications that may be administered by the competent LPN include: drugs that are legally permitted, recombinant human erythropoietin, Vitamin D analogs, anticoagulants, 0.9% sodium chloride and iron. This policy applies only to practice in the licensed outpatient ESRD dialysis setting under the direct supervision of RN. The supervising RN is accountable and responsible for the delegation of this treatment.

Therefore, except in emergency situations, an APRN shall not prescribe, dispense, issue, administer or otherwise treat himself/herself. However, administration to oneself is acceptable when appropriately prescribed by another healthcare prescriber.
- 2) Prescribing, providing, dispensing, issuing, or administering of a scheduled drug to oneself is prohibited. However, administration to oneself is acceptable when appropriately prescribed by another healthcare prescriber.

Discipline
Disciplinary Guidelines for Sexual Boundary Violations
Board position statements do not have the force of law, but are a means for providing guidance on issues of concern to the board relevant to protection of the public. Board position statements are reviewed annually for relevance and accuracy to current practice, statutes and rules.
Last review held: 8/24/2017; revised 8/10/2023

PURPOSE:

The Tennessee Board of Nursing, consistent with its mission to protect public health, safety, and welfare, finds it essential to take a position regarding the licensure of those who engage in sexual boundary violations and/or sexual misconduct. This position is intended to establish a consistent disciplinary process.

POLICY:

The following applies to licensees and applicants for licensure:

Assumptions

- Patients under the care of a nurse are vulnerable by virtue of illness or injury, and the dependent nature of the nurse-patient relationship. The nurse must not abuse the patient’s trust. The nurse shall respect the dignity of the profession and maintain appropriate professional boundaries with respect to patients, patients’ families, and the nurse’s coworkers. The nurse will not engage in sexual misconduct or violent, threatening or abusive behavior towards patients, patients’ families or the nurse’s coworkers. The nurse must be aware of the potential imbalance of power in professional relationships with patients, based on their need for care, assistance, guidance and support, and ensure that all aspects of that relationship focus exclusively upon the needs of the patient.
- Nurses are in the position to have access to privileged information and opportunity to exploit patient vulnerability. Persons who are especially vulnerable include the elderly, children, the mentally ill, sedated and anesthetized patients, those whose mental or cognitive ability is compromised and patients who are disabled or immobilized.
- Nurses are frequently in situations where they provide intimate care to patients.
- There are appropriate boundaries in the nurse-patient relationship that nurses must clearly understand and be trusted not to cross.
- A nurse's duty to maintain boundaries extends beyond a patient's discharge from nursing care, especially when it pertains to confidential medical records.
- Sexual misconduct raises serious questions about the individual’s ability to provide safe, competent care.
- Sexual misconduct that occurs outside of the workplace, including conviction or deferred adjudication of or probation for a crime, raises concern as to whether misconduct will recur in nursing practice.
- The work of nursing is inherently personal. Within their professional role, nurses recognize and maintain appropriate relationship boundaries. Nurse-patient and nurse-colleague relationships have as their foundation the promotion, protection, and restoration of health and the alleviation of pain and suffering. Nurse-patient relationships are therapeutic in nature but can also test the boundaries of professionalism. Accepting gifts from patients is generally not appropriate; factors to consider include the intent, the value, the nature, and the timing of the gift, as well as the patient's own cultural norms. When a gift is offered, facility policy should be followed. The intimate nature of nursing care and the involvement of nurse in important and sometimes highly stressful life events may contribute to the risk of boundary violations. Dating and sexually intimate relationships are always prohibited.

Boundary violations can also occur in professional colleague relationships. In all communications and actions, nurses are responsible for maintaining professional boundaries. They should seek the assistance of peers or supervisors in managing or removing themselves from difficult situations (American Nurses Association, 2015).

Crimes Related to Sexual Misconduct

Crimes of sexual misconduct that involve abuse of a minor or a vulnerable person or taking advantage of another person are extremely serious grounds for revocation of a license/certificate or denial of any application/reapplication for a license/certificate. The length of time between the conviction and the application is not a mitigating factor due to the high recidivism rate for sex offenders, lack of empirical evidence regarding the success of treatment, and the fact that many victims do not report that a sexual offense has been committed against them.

Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct is never acceptable. Conduct includes but is not limited to sexual relations with a patient, rape, sex disguised as treatment (unnecessary or prolonged pelvic/breast/genital exams or touching intimate body parts when the touch is not necessary for care) and "sneaky sex" (surreptitious touch, voyeurism, or exposing the patient's body when not necessary) are grounds for limitation, denial, or revocation of licensure.

Nurses should never engage in conduct with a patient that is sexual or may reasonably be interpreted as sexual or in any behavior that is seductive or sexually demeaning to a patient, or engaging in sexual exploitation of a patient or former patient. Even if a patient initiates the sexual contact, a sexual relationship is still considered sexual misconduct for the nurse. The nurse should never use the patient to satisfy the nurse's need for personal amusement, gratification, power, control, sexual stimulation or satisfaction. It is always the responsibility of the nurse to establish appropriate boundaries with present and former patients.

Other sexual misconduct such as sexual harassment of a patient, verbal interaction of a sexual nature, or a romantic-like relationship with a patient are unacceptable but not necessarily a disqualification from licensure.

Determination of Severity of Sexual Misconduct

A forensic psychological evaluation with a sexual predator component – such as the sex MMPI, as well as a polygraph, may be necessary for the board to determine the severity of the violation. The evaluation will be performed by a Board approved psychologist or psychiatrist with forensic credentials who has expertise in evaluating sexual offenders.
