OFFERS IN COMPROMISE: GENERAL INFORMATION

The Tennessee Department of Revenue's Offer in Compromise program allows a taxpayer to settle a tax liability for less than the total amount owed. Generally, the Department will accept an offer in compromise only if the amount offered represents the most the Department can expect to collect over a 3-5 year time frame. The Attorney General and Reporter and the Comptroller of the Treasury must approve compromises over a certain amount.

Minimum Requirements. The Department will process an offer in compromise application only if the taxpayer:

- Is not the subject of an open or active bankruptcy case
- Has filed all required tax returns and reports
- Has fully completed the offer in compromise application
- Has provided all supporting documentation
- Has responded fully to all requests for additional information and documentation

Factors Considered. Although the Department evaluates each case based on its own unique set of facts and circumstances, the Department gives the following factors strong consideration:

- The taxpayer's ability to pay, both immediately and over time
- The amount of equity in the taxpayer's assets
- The taxpayer's income and allowable expenses
- The potential for changed circumstances
- The likelihood the taxpayer will comply with tax laws in the future
- Whether a compromise is in the best interest of the state

The Offer. Generally, the amount the taxpayer offers must represent the maximum amount the taxpayer can pay, either immediately or over a 3-5 year time frame.

- The offer in compromise application includes a worksheet to assist taxpayers in determining an acceptable offer.
- Not all expenses are allowed. The Department utilizes federal guidelines for Tennessee to determine allowable household and personal expenses. The Department will not allow excessive expenses or expenses related to debts that would not have priority over the State's tax lien in a bankruptcy proceeding.
- The Department recognizes that each taxpayer's circumstances are unique. The taxpayer can ask the Department to consider special circumstances that might affect the taxpayer's ability to pay (for example, a serious long-term illness).
- The Department will give the taxpayer an opportunity to complete, supplement, or correct an application where it appears the taxpayer made a good faith effort to provide all required information and documentation.

- If the Department believes the taxpayer can pay the full liability over time, the Department will decline to compromise the liability but will generally work with the taxpayer to set up an installment payment agreement.

While the Offer is Pending.

- Unless the taxpayer is experiencing extraordinary financial difficulties, submission of an offer in compromise application does not halt collection activity or alter the payment requirements of any current installment payment agreement.
- To avoid levies and other collection action, the taxpayer may request a short-term installment payment agreement while the application is under review. The Department will allow reasonable requests unless it determines there is an immediate collection risk.
- Any payment made with the offer, or while it is being reviewed, will be applied to the liability and credited toward the compromised amount in the case of acceptance.
- Payments will not be refunded if the offer is declined or withdrawn.
- The Department may file a state tax lien on the taxpayer's property while the application is under review.

Reasons for Rejecting an Offer. The Department generally will not accept an offer if:

- The Department's financial analysis indicates that the taxpayer can pay an amount greater than that offered OR the taxpayer has the ability to pay the entire tax liability, either immediately or on an installment payment agreement
- The taxpayer omitted or undervalued income, assets, or other items of significance on the application
- The taxpayer has a history of regular or willful noncompliance with Tennessee's tax laws
- The tax liability is based on taxes that the taxpayer collected from customers but did not remit to the Department
- The taxpayer has a history of criminal tax fraud (conviction, guilty plea, or "nolo contendere" plea)

Offer in Compromise Application.

- All information and statements provided by the applicant are subject to verification and are submitted under penalty of perjury.
- The taxpayer's application must include the required financial disclosure form(s). Depending upon the legal structure of the applicant, the following financial disclosure forms are required:
  - Individual applicants must submit Form CS-14B (Statement of Financial Condition for Individuals)
  - Self-employed individuals and business owners must submit both forms CS-14B (Statement of Financial Condition for Individuals) and CS-14C (Statement of Financial Condition for Businesses)
  - Business entities must submit Form CS-14C (Statement of Financial Condition for Businesses)

A statement of Financial Condition should be completed in order to determine the amount of the offer. Form CS-14-B for individuals or Form CS-14C for businesses should be used for this purpose. The applicant's net worth and disposable income as determined by the financial statement should form the basis for the offer because these amounts are otherwise available to the Department as sources of collection. Please use the worksheet below to assist in calculating the value of financial resources upon which the offer may be based.

"DOUBT AS TO COLLECTABILITY" OFFER

Individual

- |  |          |
|--|----------|
| 1) Net Worth [Item 33, from Form CS 14B]   | $ _____ |
| 2) Net Monthly Household Disposable Income x 60 [Item 46, from Form CS-14B] | $ _____ |
| 3) Total Value [Combine Items 1 and 2]   | $ _____ |

Business

- |   |          |
|---|----------|
| 1) Net Worth [Item 26, from Form CS 14C]                      | $ _____ |
| 2) Net Monthly Income x 60 [Item 28, from Form CS-14C] | $ _____ |
| 3) Total Value [Combine Items 1 and 2]                        | $ _____ |

The total of Net Worth plus Net Household Disposable Income (Net Worth plus Net Income if a business) is a factor that the Department will take into consideration when evaluating whether the taxpayer can pay the liability in full. If the Total Value is greater than the total tax liability then it should be considered that the applicant has financial resources sufficient to pay in full and should not apply for an offer. (Note: If the applicant is self-employed, combine the Total Value amounts for individual and business to determine a reasonable offer amount.)
