The Active Health Index

Sharon Fitzsimmons, MD, MPH, FAAP
Medical Director

August 4, 2022

Sharon Fitzsimmons, M.D. Medical Director

Dr. Fitzsimmons provides clinical leadership and support focusing on health promotion and population health management. She assists with wellness promotion and lifestyle risk reduction, and clinical support for care and condition management. Dr. Fitzsimmons is also involved in creating new and updated evidence-based clinical content, outcomes analyses and reporting.

Before joining ActiveHealth in 2013, Dr. Fitzsimmons founded and grew a private practice for 10 years. She was also involved in teaching residents and medical students and was medical director for an outpatient clinic in Richmond, Virginia.

- Medical School - Ohio State University College of Medicine
- Internship - Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus, OH
- Residency and Fellowship - Children's Hospital Medical Center of Akron, OH
- Board certified in pediatrics
- Masters in Public Health - University of Massachusetts

The Active Health Index delivers a multi-dimensional analysis of opportunities to improve health

We help find the answer to these three questions.

1

What is the health of the population?

2

What are the opportunities to improve employee health?

3

How much did health improve between two points in time?

The AHI represents the ongoing evolution in clinical analytics by leveraging our longitudinal clinical data base

Ingest medical & Rx claims, lab, biometrics, HRA data, etc.

9,000+ CareEngine clinical rules

250 CareEngine clinical condition and comorbidity markers

Active Health Index

The Problem

How do you measure the opportunity to improve health?

How do you quantify how much health has improved?

• The Solution

- The Active Health Index is a single value metric (0 to 100) that reflects the health of an individual or a population based on assessment of ten dimensions of health (100 = maximum health)
- The Impactable Health Index is a single value metric (0 to 100) that measures the opportunity to improve health based on assessment of six dimensions of health

The Active Health Index

Helps us find opportunities that have the most immediate impact.
