Whenever we did our little seminars, which I'm doing something different this year, I always ask and Mr. Rousseau was kind enough to participate when we went to West Tennessee. We appreciated that. Even though he is a public member, he still represents the Private Investigation Commission. MR. BAYNE: Right. MS. VEST: We went to, what, Pigeon Forge? I don't think anybody was there that I remember. Yes, I'll let you know what areas that we would be in if you would come. I would introduce you. This would be a good time for you to talk about the profession. I don't know your profession. You do. It would be a lot of help. I didn't know MR. BAYNE: I believe someone was there

I do not have any I guess I could stick this under correspondence, but I do have the only thing I have left is education under education review. We had the education committee meet this morning. And they have decided that all the courses were approved. So we do need a complete vote by the entire commission. MR. VALENTINE: Okay. On the education report, do we have a motion to approve the education report? MR. BROWN: Motion we approve the education report. Commissioner Brown. MR. VALENTINE: Moved and seconded. Any discussion? (No response.) MR. VALENTINE: Hearing none, Director Vest, would you call the roll? MS. VEST: Stuart Bayne?

And, Counsel, like you talked about, the Fresh Start program is very important in this state, that folks be given a second chance. And I don't know I don't consider this a second chance because I think he's done everything that's asked of him. He's paid apparently he paid his restitution fairly quickly. That's a sizable amount. I guess he probably I mean, that was a struggle to get the money? MR. BARTON: Yes. MR. ROUSSEAU: Mr. Chairman, based upon Commissioner Brown's comments I'll withdraw my motion. MR. BAYNE: Okay.
