In the Greater Memphis area we have a plethora of challenges beckoning to our youth, we really need good goal oriented schools to promote academic enrichment to keep the students engaged to circumvent our youth from being susceptible to improper influences.

Written Comment I fully support the mission and vision of Empower Memphis. There is no other school in the entire city of Memphis that will open up opportunities like this for students. Students will have the opportunity to find out how to match their talents and their career aspirations, and explore how their academic classes support these aspirations.

This school will be a game changer for students and their families.

And the fact that Empower Memphis is also helping parents discover their paths is phenomenal. When kids see their parents going back to school or getting prepared for a job opportunity it encourages kids to do the same.

Written Comment Empower Memphis model is great. I have never heard of a school that begins teaching about careers at the elementary school level. The kids nowadays need this. With so much crime that is happening with our youth, it is directly related to not knowing what to do. I am encouraged by the opportunities that young kids will have through Empower Memphis.

Written Comment	Hello. My name is Dr. Danalyn Hypolite and I have worked for the past year with Mrs. Muna Olaniyi in her fellowship with Build Excel Sustain Inc. I have worked directly in the capacity of her school design and strategy coach. From the day that Mrs. Olaniyi determined the impact she wanted to have on South Memphis/ Orange Mound, and the innovative way that she wanted to elevate education in this region, she had my FULL support. As a former charter authorizer, seeing a propped school that would focus on career exploration starting at age 5, made me smile. This is what charter schools were founded to be. Innovative hubs for educational experiences for children that are not currently offered. That is what Empower Memphis is proposing-True Innovation in an area where underperformance is rampant. Mrs. Olaniyi and her team have put in countless hours to ensure that everything they propose will elevate the educational experience for students and families in this community. Please vote to APPROVE Empower Memphis Career and College Prep.

Written Comment	Empower offers a school experience that currently does not exist for the community it hopes to support and serve. Empower's emphasis on career exploration helps contextualize the learning experience for students from a young age and gives them access to experiences that can help them cultivate a love and understanding of learning. Students and families from the Orange Mound and South Memphis community deserve access to innovative school models like Empower.

Written Comment I support Memphis Career and College Prep, first because I myself attended both public and charter schools and even though the uniforms and curriculum were total different, it was the structure that had an impact on me. I will always remember that it will always stick with me. MBA was my school they prepared me for the future instead of a public school. I really can't say public school was too fun for me due to the uniforms, the rules and regulations and even the classes were hard for me. That's just my opinion :)

Let's help the future make a difference!

Hello. My name is Hazel Moore and I born and raised right here in Orange Mound, with over four decades of experience in education, I stand before you today to emphasize the critical importance of Empower Memphis, particularly its mission to establish a career and technical school at the kindergarten level. I have witnessed the struggles and challenges our community faces firsthand. I have seen the potential that our young minds hold, and I firmly believe that education is the key to unlocking that potential. But it's not just any education; it's an education that aligns with the evolving demands of the job market.

Empower Memphis recognizes this need and takes it a step further by starting early, at the kindergarten level. Why is this crucial? It's because we have a responsibility to nurture the talents and aspirations of our children from the very beginning. By introducing career and technical education at such a young age, we're empowering our kids to explore their interests, develop critical skills, and envision a future filled with possibilities.

Empower Memphis aims to bridge the gap between education and employment. This initiative recognizes that our community needs a workforce equipped with practical skills, and what better way to achieve that than by instilling these skills right from the start?

In my four decades of experience in education, I have seen the potential for greatness in every child. Now, with Empower Memphis, we have the opportunity to provide them with the tools and resources they need to reach that greatness. By investing in a career and technical school at the kindergarten level, we are investing in the future of our community.

So, I urge you all to support Empower Memphis in its mission. Let's empower our children, ignite their dreams, and build a brighter future for Orange Mound and all of Memphis. Together, we can make a difference. Thank you.

My name is Laquita Perry. Today, I want to share with you a story, a story that echoes the experiences of countless individuals who grew up in places like the Foote Homes community of South Memphis. I stand before you not just as one voice but as a representative of those who, like me, missed out on a chance at a brighter future due to the circumstances we were born into. My journey, however, is not just about regrets; it's about the urgent need for Empower Memphis and the transformative power of career and technical education.

I was born and raised in an area plagued by poverty and where the schools were struggling to provide quality education. The opportunities were limited, and dreams often faded away unfulfilled. I vividly remember how it wasn't until my junior year of high school that I truly understood the vast array of career possibilities available. It was too late for me to make informed choices, and I had to take a detour through life's challenges before discovering my passion.

Almost thirty years later, here I am, with an unyielding desire to become a nurse, driven by my work at a local hospital. It's a path I'm excited about, but I can't help but wonder, what could my career projection have been if I had the privilege of attending a school like Empower Memphis in my formative years?

Empower Memphis represents more than just an institution; it symbolizes hope, opportunity, and empowerment for generations to come. By introducing career and technical education early on, it ensures that every child in our community has the chance to explore their interests, discover their potential, and dream big. It paves the way for them to make informed decisions about their future, long before they reach that critical crossroads in high school.

Imagine a child growing up in the same conditions I did, but with access to Empower Memphis. They could explore fields like healthcare, technology, or skilled trades from a young age. They could receive hands-on training, mentorship, and a solid foundation that would propel them toward successful careers and brighter futures. They would not have to wait until their junior year of high school, like I did, to find their passion.

My story serves as a testament to the transformative power of education and the importance of Empower Memphis. It's about breaking the cycle of missed opportunities and shattered dreams. It's about giving every child in our community a fighting chance, a chance to thrive, and a chance to achieve their full potential.

Thank you.

Hello, my name is Lena. I am an Orange Mound resident and a mother of two children. After reviewing state test scores there were no viable options that did not involve sending my child to a failing school. One of my children attends a charter school in Whitehaven. If she were to take the city bus, it would take her 2 and a half hours to get there. As a result, I drive her to school each and every day, which is about a twenty-minute drive. I make this effort because I care about the education of my children.

My other son, who has an Individualized Education Plan (IEP), has struggled with traditional schooling and is currently enrolled in online classes.

The education within Memphis Shelby County Schools is not on par for what our children need. I firmly believe that Empower Memphis is a valuable option outside of traditional schools because it helps students like my children learn about career options so they can make the connection of what they are learning at school to what they want to become in the future. Therefore, I am convinced that Empower Memphis represents a fantastic opportunity for the students within our community.

Hello. My name is Allice Lockett, and I am the founder of Allycare, a home care agency dedicated to providing compassionate support for the elderly and disabled. Today, I stand before you to share my story and to express my unwavering support for Empower Memphis Career and College Prep. At the tender age of fifteen, I found myself facing an unexpected challenge when I became pregnant with my daughter. The weight of this responsibility forced me to make the painful decision to drop out of high school, as I struggled to balance the demands of motherhood and my education. For over two decades, I toiled tirelessly in various jobs, from Captain D's to McDonald's, in order to provide for my family. It wasn't until I decided to pursue my GED that I was granted the opportunity to break free from this cycle. With my diploma in hand, I secured a position at a bank and finally found a path to a better career.

However, my journey doesn't end there. My daughter faced her own set of challenges with developmental and behavioral issues throughout her schooling. She was repeatedly expelled from schools and was later diagnosed with ADHD, ODD, and bipolar disorder, which ultimately led to her battle with depression. As a mother, it was heartbreaking to witness her struggles, especially when I lacked access to the necessary resources to support her effectively. Today, my daughter is a stay-at-home mother to my grandchild, unable to secure employment, and I find myself shouldering the responsibility of providing for my granddaughter.

Now, the time has come for my granddaughter to chart her own path, and Empower Memphis stands as the beacon of hope we've been searching for. This institution offers a unique opportunity for young minds to explore potential careers from an early age, including the possibility of taking over my business or becoming an entrepreneur in her own right. What sets Empower Memphis apart is its commitment to not only the students but also their families. The school provides invaluable resources for families, such as guidance on interview skills, resume writing, and even job shadowing opportunities with local businesses.

Empower Memphis represents a revolutionary educational model, one that Memphis has not seen before, particularly in its focus on career exploration as early as Kindergarten. I wholeheartedly support this institution, as it not only invests in its students but also in the community it serves. It's an investment in the future of our children, our families, and our city.

In closing, I want to express my deepest gratitude for your time and consideration. Empower Memphis is more than just a school; it's a lifeline for families like mine, offering a chance at a brighter future and a stronger, more empowered community. Thank you.
